Grow your business and save customers' money with next generation email Security, Continuity and Archive.

No one wants to pay for things they don't use.

Email security has become bloated with a menu of up-sell products designed to grow 'wallet-share'. Customers are sick of it but haven't had a viable alternative.

New features are pitched as an opportunity to upsell to customers, regardless of whether they will help them. Suddenly customers have security at one price, archive at another, plus continuity costs on top.

We don't think that's fair.

Ditch solutions that go up in price and margins that go down every year. Xift is the consistent and predictable partner you can build your business with.

Join Xift's Partner Programme.

Xift Partner Programme

We want to help you build your business. So we've developed the Partner Programme to help you build revenue and keep your customers delighted.

The rapidly escalating cyber threat means every email user needs security. That means an opportunity for every mailbox you support, whether it's an on-premises Exchange server or a hosted email service like Office 365. Adding Xift creates a complete, secure email solution.

You'll be responsible for selling to your customer, owning the contract and the relationship. You'll also handle billing and first line technical support.

We'll train and support you. We charge at a predictable cost for the number of mailboxes you have under contract each month.

You get a high margin recurring revenue business at a consistent price.
